

Timers are used in videos when there is a need to time certain milestones or events that occur in the video. However, adding a timer to a video can be tricky and a bit of a headache, especially for beginners. So, what if you want the timer to appear on the screen as part of the video? Well, that's exactly what you'll learn soon, putting fully functional Timer or Countdown to your videos.

VeryUtils Video Editor lets you not only add a countdown timer to a video but also customize the timer, so you can create your own to best fit your movie. You can change the text and background color, choose from a wide range of fonts, and create an outline. VeryUtils Video Editor lets you get really creative!

If you want to know how to make a countdown video, read our guide below.
