

Good morning,

I just need to know whether the PCL converter (we use your SDK in our application) can currently "intercept" some conventional strings and convert them into the PDF as hyperlinks. Of course, I am not talking of explicit hyperlinks (if I put a text like "www.verypdf.com" in the pcl document, it is converted as text and the pdf reader is already capable to interpret this string like a web link). I am referring to some function making possible to insert in the PDF a text like "Click here!" and associate to it an hyperlink. Both the text and the hyperlink would be present in the pcl code.

Thanks a lot and best regards.
