We all know how difficult it is to build an email sales list from scratch, especially for small companies. Due to limited resources, there is no other option. In fact, many companies even buy preset profile lists from third parties and send the same large number of emails. It will put your company in a vulnerable position with poor quality of email lists. However, there is a better way to use email crawlers to build highly targeted email lists.

VeryUtils Email Crawling Tool is an email crawling tool that helps you collect email addresses that are publicly displayed using the robot. This is so good because you can control where to get email lists and who can opt-in. Moreover, you do not have to rely on second-hand sources.

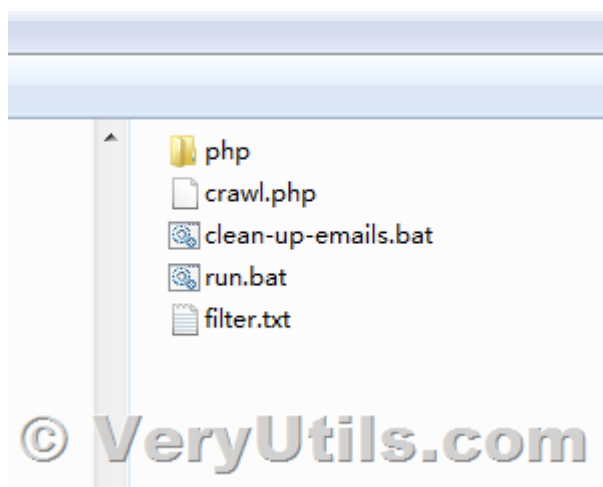

VeryUtils Email Crawler is a powerful email crawling tool that was written in PHP programming language, it can collect email addresses from web pages, so you can run it on your website or local system, it supports Windows, Linux and Mac systems .
